resilience

“Working through a divorce is tough. There are a lot of conflicting feelings and emotional turmoil, and while the legal aspects can add to the chaos, my EAP has allowed me the ability to access legal services and speak with professionals in a way that allows me to feel confident moving forward.

My wife and I had agreed that a divorce was the right decision for us, but we were constantly fighting over custody of our children. The stress of the divorce was pouring into other areas of my life—including at the office—but collaborating with a professional attorney has given us a legal solution to our decision to split up. I feel less anxious now and am able to focus more on my job.

I'd recommend the EAP's legal benefit to anyone experiencing a difficult situation; it truly offers peace of mind.”
